

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES
SPRING LECTURE SERIES:

“Can Reading Literature Make You a Better Person?”

Presented by:
Dr. Laurie Vickroy,
Department of English

Tuesday, March 31, 2020
Westlake Hall, Room 116
6:00 P.M.
Refreshments and discussion to follow.

Learn how literary works can provide spaces for reflection and insights into ourselves normally unavailable to us. Fictional “storyworlds” approximate human experience and mental states that can teach us empathy and emotional intelligence.
